Profile

I am a young and driven individual who is willing to apply all his professional and interpersonal skills to the service of his employer. I've been coding from before I got into college(which I still am in) which was about five years ago. I worked as a freelancer for a while, until I decided to take the more stable route; which was when I applied to a start up company, and got the job, in which I worked for over two years. I soon realized that I wanted something more challenging, and that was when I decided to leave in search of something new. I'm well versed with HTML, CSS, Vanilla JS, React JS, Express JS, Redux, gsap, THREE JS, MySQL, MongoDB, Mongoose etc. Willing to and hungry to learn more, and apply when required.
